Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was making a left turn at an intersection in Houston, Texas, when another vehicle struck the side of my car. I had checked for oncoming traffic and was moving solwly through the turn when the impact came from the other vehicle, which I did not see until it was too late to avoid. The force of the collision pushed my car sideways and my left knee hit the dashboard and door frame. I felt sharp pain right away and had difficulty standing and walking afterward. Emergency responders came to the scene, and I was taken for medical evaluation for my knee injury. I am providing this account so the claim can be reviewed, and I am willing to supply any further information needed to process it.
