Driver 1 was operating a sedan northbound and stated the traffic signal was green for their direction of travel. Driver 2 was operating a pickup truck westbound and stated they entered the intersection after the sginal had changed to yellow. The front driver's side of the sedan struck the passenger side of the pickup. Driver 1 was seated in the vehicle when I arrived and reported pain in the right shoulder following the impact; they stated they did not lose consciousness. A Passenger in the sedan, seated in the rear, reported no injuries. Both vehicles sustained structural damage and were not drivable without towing.
