Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was backing out of a parking space at the south end of the lot when I felt a light tap on the rear passenger side of my vehicle. I stopped immediately and got out to look. The other car was a silver sedan that had been slowly driving down the aisle behind me, and its driver had also stopped. Neither of us saw the other coming because a large SUV was parked in the adjacent space and blocked our sight lines. There is a visible dent about the size of a dinner plate on my rear quarter panel, and the other car has a small scuff on its front bumper. Both vehicles were drivable and we exchanged insurance information on the spot. Later that evening I noticed stiffness and soreness in my neck, especially when turning my head to check traffic, and I went to an urgent care clinic the next morning, where I was diagnosed with a neck strain and advised to rest and take over-the-counter pain relief.
