Treatment Summary

Patient:	Maria Page
Treating provider:	Jennifer Lee, DC
Diagnosis:	back strain

Treatment Summary

The patient presented with acute lumbar strain following a sideswipe collision that occurred while the patient was changing lanes. Symptoms at initial evaluation included localized low back pain, paraspinal muscle tenderness, and restricted range of motion in flexion and lateral bending. Neurological screening was within normal limits, with no radicular symptoms reported.

Over the course of twenty treatment visits, care focused on pain control, restoration of mobility, and progressive strengthening of the lumbar and core musculature. Interventions included manual therapy, therapeutic exercise, targeted stretching, and home exercise instruction. Pain scores and functional tolerance improved steadily across the treatment period.

At the time of discharge, the patient had regained near-full lumbar range of motion, reported minimal residual discomfort with daily activities, and was able to return to usual work duties. The prognosis is good. The patient was advised to continue the home exercise program and to return for evaluation if symptoms recur or worsen.
