Treatment Summary

Patient:	James Cole
Treating provider:	Dean Wilson, DC
Diagnosis:	concussion

The patient presented following a motor vehicle collision in which the patient's vehicle was struck whlie executing a left turn. The patient reported immediate headache, dizziness, nausea, and brief disorientation at the scene, with no reported loss of consciousness. Neurological examination on iniital presentation showed intact cranial nerves, normal gait, and mild photosensitivity; cognitive screening identified mild difficulty with concentration and short-term recall. A diagnosis of concussion was made, and the patient was advised on cognitive and physical rest with graedd return to activity. Over four follow-up visits, headache frequency and light sensitivity dcereased steadily, and cognitive screening scores improved to within expected limits. At the most recent visit, the patient reported near-resolution of symptoms and was cleared for a gradual return to work and normal daily activities, with instructions to report any recurrence of headache, confusion, or worsening sympotms promptly.
