Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was backing my vehicle out of a parking space at a shopping center in Houston, Texas, moving slowly with my mirrors checked. As I reversed, the rear bumper of my car struck the front corner of another vehicle that was traevling down the aisle behind me. I did not see it approach because the view past my rear window was partly blocked by a pillar and a row of parked cars. I stopped immediately, got out to check both vehicles, and saw scuff marks and a cracked taillight on my car and a small dent on the other car's front fender. Neither vehicle was towed. The other driver and I exchanged insurance information. Later that evening I felt stiffness and pain in my neck and upper shoulders, and I was diagnosed with a neck strain. I am submitting this account in good faith.
