Treatment Summary

Patient:	Joe Bentley
Treating provider:	Austin Hill, DC
Diagnosis:	neck and back strain

Clinical Treatment Summary

Patient presented following a side-impact motor vehicle collision that occurred at an intersection. Patient reports immediate onset of neck pain and low back pain with stiffness, rated 6 out of 10 at initial visit. Denies loss of consciousness, headache, numbness, tingling, or weakness in the upper or lower extremities. No airbag deployment reported.

On examination, cervical and lumbar paraspinal muscle tenderness was noted with restricted range of motion in flexion and rotation. Neurological screen was intact. No gross deformity was observed. Straight leg raise was negative bilaterally.

Diagnoses: cervical strain and lumbar strain secondary to motor vehicle collision.

Treatment provided at both visits included soft tissue mobilization, a home stretching program, ice and heat application guidance, and a prescription for an over-the-counter anti-inflammatory medication. Patient was advised to avoid hevay lifting and to return if symptoms worsen.

At the second visit, patient reported partial improvement, with pain rated 4 out of 10 and improved range of motion. Prognosis is good with conservative management. Follow-up as needed.
