Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was making a left turn at an intersection in Houston, Texas, when another vehicle struck the side of my car. The impact threw me against the door frame and I hit my head hard. I was dazed afterward and was later diagnosed with a concussion, which has caused headaches, light sensitivity, and trouble concentrating. I have described the collision the same way every time I have spoken about it, whether to the officer at the scene, to my doctor, or to the adjuster. I am the named drievr on this policy and I am providing this statement so the claim can be processed. I am willing to provide medical records and any further details that will help confirm what happened.
