Treatment summary

The patient presented following a low-speed head-on collision with a lumbar back strain as the primary complaint. The reported injury is conssitent with the mechanism of this type of crash. Over four visits, care consisted of assessment, conservative management, and gradual rehabilitation exercises. Treatment followed a typical course, with pain and muscle guarding easing steadily, and visit frequency was reduced as function returned. Imaging and examination findings clearly support the diagnosis of soft tissue injury to the lower back. No prior injury or treatment involving the same body area is knwon from the patient's history. Two similar billing entries recorded on the same date of service are curerntly under review by the billing office. Functional status at last visit was improved, with the patient returning to most daily activities and work duties, and discharge from active care was planned with a home exercise program.
