Treatment summary

Patient presented following a rear-end motor vehicle collision with complaints of right shoulder pain and restricted range of motion. The reported mechanism of injury is consistent with the kind and force of the collision. Over three visits, care followed a typical course of evaluation, conservative management, and progressive rehabilitation, with treatment intensity tapering as symptoms improved. Physical examination findings were consistent with the reported injury, and imaging clearly confirmed the shoulder injury. No prior injury or treatment to the same body region is known to the provider. Billed services reflect the visits rendered, with no duplicate or repeated charges identified. Current status: improving, with a plan for home exercise and follow-up as needed.
