Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was a passenger in a silver sedan that was parked near the entrance of the lot at Houston when the collision happened on 2024-07-13. My driver had just pulled into a space and was reversing slowly when a white SUV backed out from the row behind us without stopping. Its rear bumper sturck the driver's side of our car with a hard jolt. Everyone in the vehicle was thrown forward and then back against the seats. My neck and shoulder were sore immediately, and the two people in the back seat both complained of pain in their wrists and lower backs. The driver held her head for a moment and said she felt dizzy. We stayed in the car until a store employee came over and called for help. Paramedics checked all of us on site, and several of us were taken to be examined afterward.
