Claim Notes

Claim number:	C-1427
Claimant:	Allen Mills
Adjuster:	Valerie Rodriguez

2024-08-01
Claim reported by phone from the insured's household member, who was driving the insured vehicle when it was struck while turning left at an intersection. The driver reports neck and back pain and says the other vehicle came through on the opposing lane as the turn was being made.

2024-08-14
Confirmed the driver is a resident of the policyholder's household and is listed as a covered operator under the policy. Coverage for this loss appears to be in force, and nothnig in the file suggests the damage predates the policy start.

2024-09-04
Obtained the police report, which places the claimant's vehicle in the intersection and records that the claimant was seated behind the wheel at the scene. Officer notes describe the impact location consistent with the driver's account.

2024-09-17
Photographs of the insured vehicle show front-quarter damage that lines up with the described impact. No prior body damage or reapir records were found in the vehicle history.

2024-09-20
Spoke with two independent witnesses from the intersection. Both recall the sequence of the collision the same way the claimant described it, and neither had any connection to the parties.

2024-09-28
Contacted the other driver, who confirmed the account of how the collision happened and acknowledged responsibility for the turn-across path. Their statement matches the scene diagram and the witness accounts.

2024-10-16
Claimant is now represented by counsel, who has requested that all further contact be routed through their office. Injury description has been sent for review, with neck and back strain noted as the initial diagnosis.

2024-10-31
Medical records show a treatment course running somewhat longer than is typical for this kind of soft tissue injury. Imaging was ordered and the physician's notes indicate no earlier complaints ivnolving the same areas of the spine.

2025-01-01
Reviewed the claimant's statements across the recorded call, the written statement, and the interview with counsel present. The account of the collision and the sequence of events has stayed the same in each of them.

2025-01-17
Reviewed the injury and the impact forces together. The reported neck and back strain fits the type and force of the crash, and the file is ready to move forward for valuation pending the remaining treatment records.

Statement of:	Allen Mills

Q: This is the adjuster speaking. Is it all right if I record this statement for the claim file?

A: Yes, that's fine.

Q: Please state your full name for the recording.

A: I'd rather just go by my first name for now, if that's okay.

Q: That's fine. Can you tell me where you were when the accident happened?

A: I was in Houston, Texas, driving through an intersection on a fairly busy road. I was turning left onto a side street.

Q: What was the traffic like at that moment?

A: It was moderate. There was a car coming toward me from the other direction, and I thought I had enough room to make the turn.

Q: What happened next?

A: The other vehicle came through the intersection faster than I expected and hit the passenger side of my car. My car spun a little and stopped against the curb.

Q: Were you able to get out of the vehicle?

A: Yes, I got out on my own, but I felt stiff almost right away.

Q: Did you seek medical attention?

A: Yes, I went to an urgent care clinic that same day. They diagnosed me with a neck strain and a back strain. I've been diong physical therapy twice a week since then.

Q: How are your symtpoms today?

A: The neck is still sore when I turn my head to the right, and my lower back aches after I've been sitting for more than an hour. Some days are better than others.

Q: Have you missed any work because of the injuries?

A: I've missed a few shifts, and I've had to lmiit how much I lift at the job.

Q: Is there anything else you think I should know about the accident?

A: Only that I want to cooperate fully. I'll send over the clinic records and the repair estimate for my car as soon as I have them.

Q: Thank you. This concludes the statement.

A: Thanks, I appreciate your time.
