Description of the accident (claimant's words)

I was stopped at a red light on a main road in Pasadena, Texas, when the car behind me hit my rear bumper hard enough to push my vehicle forward into the intersection. My seatbelt locked and I was thrown against the steering wheel, and within minutes my left wrist began to swell and throb. I was taken to the hospital, where staff confirmed a fracture. I am the named driver on this policy and I was the only person in my vehicle at the time. In the days since, I have been asked to go over what happened several times, and I have recalled a few minor details I had not mentioned at first, such as the color of the other car's headlights and the sound of the impact. Apart from those small additions, my description of the collision has remained the same from the start.
