Treatment summary

The patient was seen after a sideswipe collision during a lane change and reports neck and back strain. The force and mechanism of the impact are consistent with the injuries described. Care has included 44 visits, with sessions occurring nearly every day, and new body areas were added several weeks after the collision. Most clinical findings rest on the patient's own description of pain. Imaging and physical examination tests have all been within normal limits. The history contains no known prior injury to the same areas. Billing records show no repeated charges for the same services. Future management will focus on symptom control, a gradual return to normal activity, and a review of the treatment plan given the frequency of visits and the spread of complaints.
