Appraiser remarks

The rear passenger door and quarter panel show deep crushing consistent with a side impact at an intersection, and the pattern of deformation lines up with the account given of how the collision happened. The intrusion reaches the B-pillar trim, so replacing the door, reinforcing the pillar, and refinishing the panel is the proper plan. Labor hours run a little high for this scope, and I have noted a modest adjustment for the body technician's time. The invoices on file show no duplicated line items. Nothing in the vehicle history points to earlier damage in this area.
